Have you ever been "at your wit's end"? Felt like "the blind leading the blind"? Started classwork "at the eleventh hour"? Got through something "by the skin of your teeth"? Commented that "a leopard can't change its spots"? Felt like "a lamb led to the slaughter"? Saw "the writing on the wall"? Well, you've been quoting Scripture if you have! The Bible isn't just about readings at Mass, or catchy phrases that become clichés.

The Bible is the Living Word of God, and it's for you, personally. Imagine, God wants to communicate His love for you every day, and one of the ways He has chosen to do this powerfully is through the words of Scripture. It can be hard to know where to start, or how to read, so maybe it's good to start small.

WEEKLY CHALLENGE:

Watch Elizabeth speak for a few minutes in the YouTube video below explaining how she dives into Scripture, and check out some of the Bible verses in the attached handouts. Open yourself up to a little time with God everyday, make a set time and place for Him, and just watch what He does in your life!

Gospel Reflection: THE LOVE STORY CONTINUES

On the third Sunday of Easter, we continue to hear Gospel accounts of Jesus' appearances to his disciples following his Resurrection. Today's reading, taken from the Gospel of Luke, follows immediately after the report of Jesus' appearance to his disciples on the road to Emmaus. This is the event being recounted by the disciples in the opening verse of today's Gospel.

In the reports of his appearances after the Resurrection, Jesus constantly greets his disciples with the words, "Peace be with you." This is a most appropriate greeting. The disciples had witnessed the death of someone they loved, and they now fear for their own lives as well. Peace is what they need more than anything else.

Even as they hear Jesus' greeting of peace, the disciples are terrified. They are uncertain about what to make of the figure before them and, quite understandably, they mistake Jesus for a ghost! But the figure before them is not a ghost. Jesus invites them to experience his resurrected body with their senses, to look and to touch his wounds for themselves. The figure before them is flesh and bone, still bearing the marks of crucifixion. Although the disciples cannot forget his suffering and death, peace begins to take root in their hearts, as their fears turn to joy and amazement.

As further proof of his identity and of his resurrected body, Jesus eats with his disciples. The disciples have known Jesus best through the meals that he shared with them. By eating with his disciples after his Resurrection, Jesus recalls all these meals they shared together, the most important of which was the Last Supper where Jesus instituted the Eucharist. Having shared a meal with his disciples, Jesus then reveals to them the significance of what was written about him in the Scriptures.

So, too, our celebration of the Mass is an encounter with Jesus, through the Word and the Eucharist. As Jesus commissions his disciples to be witnesses to what Scriptures foretold, the celebration of the Eucharist commissions us to be witnesses in the world today.
